Nancy Wynne Talks of Two Engagements Announced Today-She Hears of the Women Writers' Dance—Plays and Players' Elections

THE Flower Market brings out lots of news. People just talk and talk and then the first thing you know something is told in public before you are ready to tell it yourself. However, it's only a few days in advance of the intended announcement and so, since it is being talked of everywhere, I must is being talked of everywhere, I must is being talked of everywhere, I must tell you that Ellen Glendinning is engaged to young Persifor Frazer, 3d, and it is announced today by her father and mother. BALA-CYNWYD FETE

The Woman's Club of Bala-Cynwyd is making extensive plans and elaborate preparation for the lawn fete that is to be held June 4 and 5 on City Line below from Bryn Mawr avenue. It is expected that this will be the largest affair of its kind ever held in this community. The attractions are to be many and varied. A musicale and an exhibition of esthetic dancing are open to all who pay the small entrance charge. The fortune teller and snake charmer, without which no street fair would be complete, will be on hand. It is expected that the dog show will rank only second in interest to the baby show, and there will doubtless be a large number of entries in each. There will be home-grown fruits and vegetables for sale, a table of dainty needlework, a grab bag for the youngsters and ice cream, lemonade and home-made candy to tempt the contents of pocketbooks into the coffers of the building fund. For, of course, there is a reason. The Woman's dictib of Bala-Cynwyd feels that no more appropriate memorial to the men who R gave their service to the country during the war could be devised than a building on thouse the ever-growing public library. It is for this object that the fete is being to house the ever-growing public library building shall also house the Woman's sclub.
